

Nature Read more →

Nature Read more → Large Jacob's well Jacobs Well is an artesian source with a diameter of about 4 meters. It follows from the largest system of underground caves of Texas. The water is so transparent that it seems like the boys jumping into the abyss. The well is one of the most interesting and mysterious places for divers the depth of 10 meters, however, near the bottom branches start underground in caves which are still not fully understood. At the beginning of 2013 for 8 divers had not returned from studies of these underground tunnels. Jacob's well is in Wimberley, Texas. It seamlessly jump children bathe in it adults. But for divers it is not entirely harmless, no one knows what lurks in the depths of this underwater cave and why she many never returned. The well stream flows into Cypress Creek. By itself, the well is warm and calm. At a depth of 9 meters begin branch a total of four Starts at 9 meters and ends at 165. It is well lit it has a lot of fish and seaweed is something to see. Starts at 24th second meter of the cave. Minus the cave is that it has a very narrow entrance it killed a student from Texas Richard Patton. Starts from the second small opening-the descent with loose gravel divers tend not to touch it when float. Starts at the end of the third pass it is so complex that even professional divers don't do it. Due to the fact that it was only a few people it is called virgin cave. The bottom is covered with limestone formations so if you stir up the water with fins out of the cave, given its size find will be almost impossible. I must say that neither the third nor the fourth cave are still unexplored. There might be fifth and sixth Jacob's well for thousands of years gives clean water to residents of Wimberley and is one of the most attractive destinations for tourists and divers at the same time the most dangerous. Read more → Add review → Jacob's well in Texas despite the alleged safety of the place creepy. The feeling that jumping into the abyss probably comes to all. But the fearless children and adults are probably used to it and appreciated having a dip in this source. Jacob's well in Texas its positive functions since education provides the world with drinking water. As for his research then the time will come and he will reveal their secrets Horrible place. as you can jump I would have never jumped. Review Name Email The website Cathedral

Link to article:: Nature Read more →